
A lightweight, easy-to-deploy system with everything you need built-in

A turnkey solution

Insurance products need to quickly respond to changing market conditions and evolving risks. With Joshu, you don't have to reinvent the wheel. Everything is included, freeing the business to experiment, launch, and adapt, and freeing IT to work on supporting the business.

Talk to existing systems

The Joshu platform is entirely web-based, so there's nothing to build, nothing to install. We can export data to existing systems and bordereauxs, or connect data APIs to help with your risk model. It's lightweight, simple, and fast.

We speak API

Joshu is designed to operate within a wider ecosystem. API integrations can come in three flavors: embed your product in third-party portals, enrich your underwriting data with third-party data, or integrate with your Policy Admin System.

Safe & secure

Security best-practices and awareness are must-haves for us. Founded by former intelligence officers and cyber insurance tech executives, security is always on our mind, embedded in the way we build products.

Visit www.joshuins.com or email info@joshuins.com to schedule a demo